

ENVIRONMENTAL AWARD PROGRAM HISTORY & PAST WINNERS

ENVIRONMENTAL AWARD PROGRAM HISTORY

The City of Encinitas Environmental Commission was proud to expand its prestigious Environmental Award Program (EAP) in 2019, which was founded in 2014, thanks to the efforts of commissioners Jim Wang and Joy Lyndes, and her landscaping company Coastal Sage. The Encinitas EAP is the first award of its kind in San Diego County and is one of the few in the United States.

Last year the Commission added a new Environmental Hero category to recognize both an adult and a youth who are not necessarily affiliated with a business. This is in addition to the two Excellence in Environmental Stewardship awards that were historically granted to a for-profit business and a non-profit business each year between 2015 and 2018, and in 2019.

The EAP seeks to recognize deserving individuals, businesses, and non-profits, for their commitment to environmental stewardship and outstanding environmental achievements in the city. Candidates are peer-nominated and must be City of Encinitas residents or their business located in Encinitas. Winners are selected by a jury of recognized environmental leaders.

PAST WINNERS OF THE ENVIRONMENTAL AWARD PROGRAM

2019

The winners of the 2019 program were again presented beautiful awards made of recycled glass by Winner's Awards. The Environmental Hero Awards were presented at the Surfing Madonna Beach Run on Oct 26, 2019 by deputy Mayor Jody Hubbard, and the Excellence in Environmental Stewardship awards were presented by Mayor Catherine Blakespear at the August 12, 2020 City Council Meeting.

Environmental Hero Award, Adult category – Nita Gilson

Nita Gilson, founder of CropSwap and ProduceGood, located at The Hive at the Leichtag Commons. The organization's volunteers gather unwanted fruit and vegetables from farms and backyards and connects this otherwise wasted food with the needy. Since its inception in 2014, ProduceGood has recovered over 165 tons of produce, providing over one million meals for the hungry.

Environmental Hero Award, Youth (under 18) category – Elizabeth Hazard

Elizabeth Hazard is an Encinitas native and 11th-grade honors student at San Dieguito Academy who is making headlines in her work for a more natural world. Working with the Nature Collective and in school, she is a recognized leader in native plant conservation and gardening. She created her school's California Native Plant Club which has secured back-to-back First Place Awards in the San Diego County Fair Ecke Jr. Garden Shows.

Excellence in Environmental Stewardship, For-profit Business – Inn at Moonlight Beach

Inn at Moonlight Beach is the first hotel in the world to receive the prestigious WELL Certification at the Platinum (highest) level. The Inn filters the air and water to its highest levels, the building materials are reused and sustainable, a biodynamic urban farm generates its own compost and provides guests local foods, and the site has been remediated and the soil amended to prevent stormwater runoff and soil erosion. Shangwen Kennedy, the owner of The Inn at Moonlight Beach, accepted the award.

Excellence in Environmental Stewardship, Non-profit Business – Encinitas Ranch Community Association

Encinitas Ranch Community Association is known for its work to create one of the county's largest recycled water projects (13.7 million gallons of water per year), for upgrading their irrigation system to state of the art automation and sensor technology, and for working with their landscape contractor to convert to battery powered landscape maintenance equipment. Richard Stern, President, Encinitas Ranch Community Association, accepted the award.

2018

The 2018 Awards were delivered on Sunday, October 7, 2018, by the City of Encinitas Mayor, Catherine Blakespear, at the Surfing Madonna Beach Run at Moonlight Beach. In 2018, the awards were made of recycled glass and presented to Doug Gibson, Executive Director and Chief Scientist of the San Elijo Lagoon Conservancy (Non-profit category) and to Brian Callaway, outdoor enthusiast, and Patagonia Cardiff's Retail Floor Lead (Business category).

Environmental Excellence Award, For-profit Business – Patagonia, (Cardiff, CA)

The Patagonia Store in Cardiff by the Sea, California, splits its profits between charitable causes and shareholders. Patagonia engages the community, promotes sustainability and awareness, and combats marine debris through beach cleanups with I Love A Clean San Diego.

Environmental Excellence Award, Non-profit Business – San Elijo Lagoon Conservancy

The San Elijo Lagoon Conservancy, now called The Nature Collective, has been enhancing, preserving, and restoring the San Elijo Lagoon for decades, allowing many migrating wildlife to have a safe landing place to rest and rejuvenate. The Conservancy provides education for all generations and a peaceful place to connect with nature and enjoy a leisurely walk.

2017

On November 5, 2017, Encinitas Mayor Catherine Blakespear presented awards for Excellence in Environmental Stewardship to two Encinitas individuals for their organizations' commitments and dedication to environmental awareness and for demonstrating outstanding eco-friendly practices and contributions to our community. This is the 3RD year for this Environmental Commission initiated Environmental Awards Program.

Environmental Excellence Award, For-profit Business – Richard Risner

Rich Risner, owner of Grounded Landscape Architecture, promotes environmentally-sensitive landscaping, while using drought-tolerant plants and landscape planning, and creating spaces in appropriate balance with nature.

Environmental Excellence Award, Non-profit Business – Mim Michelove

Mim Michelove, co-founder of the non-profit Healthy Day Partners, has worked with schools for over a decade to teach children and parents about the complete cycle of food, from farming to healthy eating to sustainability.

“These awards give our environmentally friendly residents and businesses the recognition they so greatly deserve for being forward-thinkers and community leaders in environmental stewardship,” explains Encinitas Environmental Commissioners Jim Wang and Joy Lyndes. The 2017 EAP Awards were sponsored by the City of Encinitas, the Encinitas Environmental Commission, the Surfing Madonna Oceans Project, and Coastal SAGE Landscape Architecture. This year the awards were made from colorful recycled glass instead of artwork presented by a local artist.

Mayor Blakespear presented these awards at the November 5, 2017 Surfing Madonna Beach Run, after running the in the race herself. This year the race made an official attempt to set a Guinness World Record as the world's largest run on beach sand. The Surfing Madonna's mission is to keep our oceans clean, our coastline protected, and to provide opportunities for disabled kids and adults to experience the healing power of the ocean. This is a nonprofit organization dedicated to protecting our ocean from the harmful effects of pollution and cultivating new ocean advocates.

“Congratulations to our deserving 2017 award winners, and thank you to all the EAP volunteers, sponsors, judges and our Encinitas community, for your outstanding efforts to set a high standard for environmental stewardship.” – Environmental Commissioners, Joy Lyndes and Jim Wang

2016

Environmental Excellence Award, For-profit Business – Encinitas Foreign & Domestic Auto Repair

Encinitas Foreign and Domestic Auto Repair, family owned since 1988, is a company that is eco-friendly throughout. They are 100% solar powered and energy efficient, recycle whenever possible, are also a certified Green Station for used oil collection to protect our natural environment, and they segregate and isolate aerosols, cleaners, and other toxins.

Environmental Award Program for the Non-profit Business – Brad Roth, Cottonwood Creek Conservancy

Brad Roth has dedicated over 25 years of his life to the Cottonwood Creek Watershed. Brad Roth, Mark Wisniewski, and countless volunteers over time have devoted endless hours to the preservation and restoration the creek. Brad Roth and the Cottonwood Creek Conservancy have been educating, inspiring and leading, teams of volunteers since 1993.

The two artists selected in the creation of the 2016 Environmental Awards were Christina Zeller of Christina Zeller Art & Design, and Nate Main, illustrator and designer.

2015

This first year of the Environmental Award Program, two artists were solicited to make the awards to be given to the recipients. The art had to be original and environmentally themed. The artists had to be local Encinitas residents. The artists were compensated for their work by the Commission. The two artists in 2015 were Artie Mattson and Tom Scott

Environmental Excellence Award, For-profit Business – GoodOnYa Organic Deli

Established in 2001 by Olympic Athlete, Kris Buchannan, GoodOnYa received the award for their environmental and organic practices throughout their product lines, equipment, operations, and company culture.

Environmental Excellence Award, Non-profit Business – Solana Center for Environmental Innovation

The Solana Center received this award for their long history of promoting sustainable practices, recycling, composting, local cleanups, and environmental education.
